

Team Biographies

Maddie B. Hamilton

Managing Director

Head of East Region Healthcare, Higher Education & Nonprofit

Maddie Hamilton serves as JPMorgan Chase & Co. Managing Director, Industry Manager, Middle Market Banking & Specialized Industries, East Region Head of Health Care, Higher Education, and Nonprofit Industries within the Commercial Bank, including the commercial bank's relationships with NGOs. She is a senior executive with over 15 years' experience in banking and strategic consulting for the Nonprofit, Healthcare and Higher Education sectors. She has held various position within JP Morgan since 2018 - leading her teams to grow and serve client relationships across the firm effectively.

Maddie's teams are responsible for delivering the full the breadth of the JPMC's resources to clients – developing and coordinating credit, liquidity and cash management solutions and integrating solutions and resources across the investment bank, derivatives, asset management and consumer bank.

Prior to JPMC, Maddie spent ten years at Bank of America, with her most recent role in commercial banking covering Healthcare, Higher Education and Nonprofit clients.

Maddie holds a Bachelor of Arts, Economic and Political Science degree from Hobart and William Smith Colleges and a Master of Business Administration, Data Analytics from Indiana University – The Kelley School. Maddie holds series 24, 7, 63, 79 licenses. Maddie lives with her family in New York City.

J.P. Morgan Commercial Bank
277 Park Ave, Floor 02
New York, NY, 20005
jpmorganchase.com/commercial

Phone
212.623.2319

Email
madeline.b.hamilton@jpmorgan.com