Tamara is the regional nonprofit, education, and public sector industry lead partner for the Mid-Atlantic region and the assurance lead partner for the Metro D.C. market. Tamara has more than 23 years of experience in public practice and the private sector. Much of her experience is focused on audit for nonprofit organizations, specifically 501(c)(3) organizations, professional membership associations, private foundations, private operating foundations, social welfare organizations, labor unions, and audits of employee benefit plans. She also has considerable experience in providing assurance services for a variety of small to midsize businesses including, but not limited to, government contractors, technology companies, construction contractors, municipalities, and quasi-governmental organizations. Tamara has significant experience with compliance work in accordance with 2 CFR 200 (formerly OMB Circular A-133). She assists for-profit and nonprofit clients with financial statement audits for various federal agencies and provides consulting services in areas such as cost allowability and allocability, indirect rate cost analysis, purchase accounting, and developing internal control and financial reporting best practices.

She is actively involved with the Greater Washington Society of CPAs, Virginia Society of Certified Public Accountants, American Institute of CPAs, and the IRS TEGE Exempt Organizations Council. She regularly speaks on a variety of topics such as the lease accounting standard, unrelated business income, indirect costs, lobbying, excess compensation, and intermediate sanctions.

Tamara is a graduate of Old Dominion University, Norfolk, Virginia, with a B.S. degree in economics.
